

ACCOLADES FOR LANG & REED

Score 9/10 September 2014

Lang & Reed 2013 Chenin Blanc – Mendocino

“Palest blonde in color, this wine smells of cooked quince, baked apples, and lemon juice. In the mouth quince and lemon juice flavors have a wonderful bright minerality and a great length. A chalk-dust dryness lingers in the finish. One of the better Chenins from California I've had. 13.5% alcohol.”

Alder Yarrow, Vinography – A Wine Blog

Score 9.5/10 July 2009

Lang & Reed 2004 Cabernet Franc – ‘Premier Etage’ – Napa Valley

“Medium to dark ruby in color this wine has a bright nose of hazelnut skin, black cherry, violets, and a tiny hint of green bell pepper to keep things real and the nose true to this varietal. In the mouth it is gorgeously smooth, like a baby's skin on satin sheets, and lush with flavors of black cherry, dark plum, violets, and lavender. With little or no trace of oak influence to be found, this wine's tannins are quite airy and light, and not likely to be noticed by most, who will be too busy loving the gorgeous fruit and lengthy finish. Outstanding.”

Alder Yarrow, Vinography – A Wine Blog